

Postmaster and Copyright report
LOA AGM 2011
Jennifer Carr

I don't think that email enquiries were as busy this year or that may be my imagination!

The highlight of the postmaster job for me this year was making a friend from Holland called Hendrick, who was so grateful for the information he received about touring the Tasmanian Lighthouses that he sent me a beautiful postcard from St Catherine's Lighthouse (Isle of Wight)! I didn't provide him with any information, Alan and Christian did that, but I obviously took all the credit!

The only issue I have with sending emails on is that sometimes I don't know if the query has been answered, and I think it would be great if I am CC'd in the reply so that I know an answer has been provided.

In regards to copyright, I have received several requests from people who want to use images from the LOA website. I now answer that people can use any image as long as the source is acknowledged, but if a high resolution image is required then I try to contact the photographer. Sometimes this is successful, most often it is not. This situation will hopefully become easier when the undated website, with more current photo images, is launched.

I just want to thank everyone on the committee for all the support they provide. There have been some great Bulletins and Prisms published during the year.

Cheers
Jennifer Carr
